

BioDiagnostics, Inc. Announces the addition of Software Architect

René Bylander

BDI announces the addition of software architect René Bylander to its IT management team. René holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Systems with a minor in Agricultural Engineering from the University of Wisconsin – River Falls. Her technical leadership experience ranges from software developer to project lead, developing data bases, implementing best practices and web design services. In her role as Software Architect, she will work with the management team to monitor and improve internal and external software tools.